NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Next)

2, Statement of Compliance with Accounting Standards and Accounting Policies

The company has applied the Vietnamese Accounting Standards and the relevant guidelines issued by the State. The financial statements are prepared and presented in accordance with all the regulations of each standard, circulars guiding the implementation of the standards, and the current Accounting System for Enterprises in Vietnam.

IV, APPLIED ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1, Foreign Exchange Rates Applied in Accounting

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted into Vietnamese Dong at the actual exchange rate at the time of the transaction. At the year-end, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies classified as assets are converted using the buying exchange rate, while monetary items classified as liabilities are converted using the selling exchange rate of the commercial bank with which the Company regularly transacts at the financial statement date.

Realized foreign exchange differences arising during the year and unrealized foreign exchange differences resulting from the revaluation of monetary items at year-end are recognized in the financial results of the fiscal year.

2, Recognition Principles for Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, bank deposits, cash in transit, and short-term investments with maturities of no more than three months that are readily convertible into cash with minimal risk of value fluctuation from the purchase date to the reporting date.

3, Accounting Principles for Receivables

Receivables are presented in the financial statements at book value, including trade receivables and other receivables, net of allowances for doubtful debts.

The allowance for doubtful debts represents the estimated portion of receivables that the Company expects to be uncollectible as of the financial statement date. Any increase or decrease in this allowance is recorded as administrative expenses in the income statement.

Receivables are classified as short-term or long-term on the balance sheet based on the remaining term at the financial statement date:

- Receivables due within one year (or within one operating cycle) are classified as current assets.

- Receivables due beyond one year (or beyond one operating cycle) are classified as non-current assets.

4, Recognition Principles for Inventories

Inventories are recorded at historical cost. If the net realizable value is lower than the historical cost, the inventories are recorded at the net realizable value. The historical cost of inventories includes purchase costs, processing costs, and other directly attributable costs incurred to bring the inventories to their current location and condition.

The cost of inventories is determined using the weighted average method.

Inventories are accounted for using the perpetual inventory system.

A provision for inventory devaluation is recognized at the end of the reporting period for the difference between the historical cost of inventories and their net realizable value, if the latter is lower.

5, Recognition Principles for Investments

Held-to-maturity investments are recognized from the purchase date and initially measured at acquisition cost, including directly attributable transaction costs. Interest income from held-to-maturity investments after the purchase date is recognized in the income statement on an accrual basis and upon cash receipt.

Investments in other entities represent equity instruments in which the Company does not have control, joint control, or significant influence over the investee.

At the reporting date, investments are classified as follows:

- Investments with a maturity or recoverability period of no more than three months from the purchase date are classified as "cash equivalents."

- Investments with a maturity or recoverability period of less than one year or within one operating cycle are classified as short-term assets.

- Investments with a maturity or recoverability period of more than one year or beyond one operating cycle are classified as long-term assets.

6, Recognition and Depreciation of Fixed Assets

Tangible and intangible fixed assets are recognized at historical cost. During use, these assets are recorded at acquisition cost, accumulated depreciation, and carrying value.

Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

Asset Type	Depreciation	Period (Year)
	Curent	Prior year
- Buildings and structures	05 – 25 years	05 – 25 years
- Vehicles	06 years	06 years
 Machinery and equipment 	03 – 05 years	03 - 05 years
- Management Tools and Equipment	03 years	03 years
- Computer Software	03 years	03 years

The historical cost of fixed assets and depreciation periods are determined according to Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC dated April 25, 2013, issued by the Ministry of Finance, and other regulations regarding the management, use, and depreciation of fixed assets, as well as amended and supplemented documents,

7, Principles for recognizing and allocating prepaid expenses

Prepaid expenses related to the production and business costs of the year are recognized as short term prepaid expenses and are included in the production and business costs of the year. The calculation and allocation of long-term prepaid expenses into production and business costs for each accounting period are based on the nature and level of each type of expense, selecting appropriate allocation methods and criteria. Prepaid expenses are gradually allocated to production and business costs using the straight-line method,

8, Accounting principles for payables

Payables to suppliers and other payables at the reporting date:

- Payables with a payment term of less than 1 year or within one business cycle are classified as short-term liabilities,

- Payables with a payment term of more than 1 year or beyond one business cycle are classified as long-term liabilities.

9, Principles for recognizing trade payables and other payables

Trade payables and other payables at the reporting date are recognized as follows:

- Payables with a maturity of less than one year or within one operating cycle are classified as short-term liabilities,

- Payables with a maturity of more than one year or beyond one operating cycle are classified as long-term liabilities,

10, Principles for Recognizing Equity

Owner's investment capital is recognized based on the actual capital contributed by the owner.

Share premium is recognized as the difference between the actual issuance price and the par value of shares when the company issues shares for the first time, issues additional shares, or reissues treasury shares.

Dividends payable to shareholders are recognized as liabilities on the company's balance sheet after the dividend declaration by the Board of Directors,

11, Principles and Methods for Recognizing Revenue

Revenue from Sales

Revenue from sales is recognized when meet the conditions as follow:

- The majority of risks and rewards associated with ownership of the goods have been transferred to the buyer.

- The company no longer retains control over the goods as an owner or has management rights over them.

- The revenue can be measured reliably.

- The company has received or will receive the economic benefits from the sale.

- The cost of the transaction can be reliably determined,

Revenue from Service Provision

Revenue from service provision is recognized when the results of the transaction can be reliably measured. If service provision spans multiple periods, revenue is recognized based on the portion of the work completed by the balance sheet date of that period. The results of service transactions are recognized when meet the conditions as follow:

- Revenue can be reliably measured.

- Economic benefits are likely to be received from the transaction.

- The portion of work completed by the balance sheet date can be determined.

- The costs incurred in the transaction and those to complete the service provision can be determined.

- The work completed is assessed using the percentage-of-completion method.

Financial revenue

Financial revenue from interest, royalties, dividends, share of profits, and other financial activities is recognized when meet two conditions as follow:

- The company is likely to receive economic benefits from the transaction.

- The revenue can be reliably measured,

- Dividends and share of profits are recognized when the company becomes entitled to receive the dividend or profit from its investment,

12, Principles for Recognizing Cost of Goods Sold,

Cost of goods sold reflects the cost of goods and services sold during the period, as well as costs associated with investment property activities, such as depreciation, repairs, and operational leasing costs (when they are not significant).

Provisions for inventory write-down are included in COGS based on the quantity of inventory and the difference between its net realizable value and the original cost. When determining inventory write-down, inventory under contract for sale (with a net realizable value not lower than book value) is excluded if there is evidence that the customer will not cancel the contract.

13, Principles for Recognizing Financial Expenses

Financial expenses include: Expenses or losses related to financial investments; Borrowing costs; Losses arising from exchange rate fluctuations on foreign currency transactions; Provisions for impairment of securities and long-term financial investments,

These expenses are recognized in total for the period and are not offset against financial revenues,

14, Principles for Recognizing Selling Expenses and Administrative Expenses

Selling Expenses reflect actual costs incurred in the process of selling products, goods, and providing services. These include advertising, sales commissions, product warranty costs (excluding construction activities), and transportation costs.

General and administrative expenses reflect the overall administrative costs of the company, including expenses related to salaries of management staff (wages, salaries, allowances, etc.); social insurance, health insurance, union fees, and unemployment insurance for administrative employees; costs of office supplies, work tools, and depreciation of fixed assets used for administrative purposes; land rent, business license tax; provision for doubtful debts; outsourced services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, property insurance, fire and explosion insurance, etc.); and other cash expenses (hospitality, customer conferences, etc.).

15, Principles and Methods for Recognizing Corporate Income Tax Expenses

Corporate income tax expenses recognized in the income statement include both current and deferred tax expenses.

Current tax expense is determined based on taxable income and the applicable corporate income tax rate for the period.

Deferred corporate income tax expense is determined based on deductible temporary differences, taxable temporary differences, and the corporate income tax rate expected to apply in the year when the asset is recovered or the liability is settled, in accordance with the tax laws effective as of the end of the financial reporting period

16, Segment Reporting

Segment reporting includes segments based on business or geographical areas.

Business Segments refer to distinguishable parts of the enterprise involved in producing or providing specific products or services, which face risks and rewards distinct from other business segments.

Geographical Segments refer to distinguishable parts of the enterprise operating in a particular economic environment, facing risks and rewards distinct from those in other geographical areas,

17, Financial Instruments

Initial Recognition

Financial Assets

At initial recognition, financial assets are recognized at cost plus any transaction costs directly attributable to their acquisition.

Financial assets of the company include cash, short-term deposits, receivables, and investments,

Financial Liabilities

At initial recognition, financial liabilities are recognized at cost minus transaction costs directly attributable to the issuance of the financial liability.

Financial liabilities of the company include payables, loans, and borrowings,

Offsetting Financial Instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are only offset and presented net in the balance sheet when the company:

- Has a legal right to offset the recognized amounts; and
- Intends to settle on a net basis or simultaneously recognize the asset and settle the liability,

18, Related parties

Related parties are those in which one party has the ability to control or exert significant influence over the other party in making decisions regarding financial policies and operations. Related parties are also considered as such if they are under common control or share significant joint influence.

In assessing the relationship between related parties, the substance of the relationship is emphasized more than its legal form,
